About the Course

Who is it for?

This course is for women who have experienced domestic abuse and seek support in processing this and moving on. It was created and is delivered with women who have experienced domestic abuse. It is run online so is accessible to attendees anywhere. Although it is not formal therapy, it can be very therapeutic in helping manage mental health and move towards recovery.

How does it help?

The course looks at the power and control within abusive relationships and its long term impact. We look at your feelings within the relationship and now.

We help shift perspective away from self-blame. We help you explore your emotional needs, start to like yourself again and reclaim your identity - so giving the chance to truly move on. As importantly, we give you a safe, totally non-judgemental space to help break isolation and to be with others with similar experiences.

After the course, we help attendees set up their own support group, if they wish, so you can continue to meet online, be with each other and support each other.
